

MAKING MONEY WITH CHARTS

A One Day Trading Course for Beginners, Intermediate and Professionals traders

LONDON: 17th May 2003

This course provides you with an exceptional understanding of charting and how to use it to make successful investment decisions. Once the basis behind charting has been explained, you will see actual traded market examples so you can gain a practical understanding of technical analysis. The course is ideal for all levels of traders from day trading to long-term investing.

Great emphasis is placed on practical ability to show exactly how to trade using charts in a clear and concise format. From a practical sense this course will help you identify when a stock or product is going to collapse or is on the brink of a major upswing. You will see learn when to cut out or stay with the position. It will also show you how the collapse in the FTSE and Nasdaq were predictable using and what will signal the end of the bear market.

Taking this course will give you the following:

- ❖ The ability to efficiently analyse any stock or scan many shares for key trading opportunities
- ❖ Identify the signals that indicate a stock that should be avoided at all costs, protecting your trading capital
- ❖ The signs that forecast that a stock has the potential to rise substantially and reverse its trend from a problem stock into a start performer
- ❖ Learn how a falling market is a great opportunity to profit.....and much more
